THE beauty of the wrappings of Vantine's Oriental toilet aids, impart to the dressing-table a charming touch of Oriental association. Their glowing, yet harmonious, coloring and perfect workmanship reflect the unapproachable artistry of the Oriental craftsman.

The international reputation of Vantine's, the one house this side of the Far East where for over half a century it has been possible to buy a wide variety of Oriental merchandise of unquestionable merit and authenticity, has made this house the natural and acknowledged headquarters in this country for Oriental toilet preparations.

Please Read the Following Before Ordering

No matter how far from New York you reside you can shop by mail at Vantine's with the same assurance of satisfaction as though you personally purchased in our store.

We employ a force of experienced clerks whose sole duty is to attend to the wants of our out-of-town customers, and all orders with which we are favored have our prompt and careful attention.

After you have selected the articles you wish, fill out an order blank, write your name, address, the catalogue numbers and descriptions of the articles desired and forward it to us accompanied by a money order or your personal check, enclosed in the self-addressed envelope which you will find herewith. (An additional supply of both order blanks and envelopes may be had free, upon request.)

Every article contained in this book is faithfully illustrated or accurately described, and backed by the Vantine guarantee to be exactly as represented. Notwithstanding, we shall cheerfully exchange, credit or promptly refund on any article purchased from us which is not perfectly satisfactory, provided you forward it to us within three days after you receive it, and it is delivered to us in a salable condition.

Our terms are cash with order, with one price to all, but we shall be pleased to open charge accounts when satisfactory business references are supplied.

We have no agents or branch stores, give no commissions, allow no discounts and sell no goods on consignment. With the exception of certain perfumes and toilet requisites, the sale of all articles illustrated and described herein is confined to our own stores.

Being so far removed from the Orient, the source of our supply, our stock, although almost endless in variety, is necessarily limited in quantity. We prefer therefore not to ship on approval.

With the exception of Oriental delicacies, chinaware, furniture, lamps, screens, etc., we prepay the transportation charges on every article illustrated or described in this book—whether or not it is catalogued "prepaid"—provided your order amounts to $1 or over.

As the postage or expressage on orders of less than $1 is paid by the purchaser and the expense of packing, etc., is often as great as on orders amounting to $1, it is to our mutual advantage to make the order amount to at least $1.

If you fail to find exactly what you wish in the following pages, simply write us and we shall promptly and cheerfully furnish full information regarding any Oriental article in which you may be interested and, where possible, submit photographs.

The prices quoted herein supersede those in all previous catalogues and are subject to change without notice.

- ORIENTAL DRESS SILKS, CREPES AND SATINS. Plain, brocaded and embroidered. Not usual or conventional in any way—they're exclusively Vantine's.

- SILKS FOR DECORATIONS. In designs and colorings they lend much to the beautifying of interiors—very Oriental, of course.

- JAPANESE PORCELAINS. The delicate quailtyness of the patterns, the egg-shell delicacy of the wares, and the beauty of the floral and figure decorations, give the table porcelains of Japan a remarkable prestige. They're made in every requisite piece of table use, at invariably moderate prices.

- COTTON CREPES. Figured and plain. Used for wall and window hangings, cushions, dresses, etc.

- SILK CUSHIONS. Unrivalled for decorative beauty and service.

- DRAPERY MATERIALS. Silks, crepes, prints, cretonnes, brocades, etc., suitable for drapery, cushions, etc.

- EVENING COATS. New models of Mandarin Coats, made of silk and crepe, with handsome embroidered designs all over.

- FANS. Of nearly every conceivable shape, material and color effect—fans of paper, silk, gauze, sandalwood, bone, are shown in wide assortments.

- EMBROIDERIES. The choicest specimens of embroidery from nearly every province of the Orient.

IVORY, both plain and carved, articles made with extraordinary care—clever handwork. Figures of men, women, children, gods, dragons, animals, etc., for cabinet pieces or for the dressing table.

LAMPS AND SHADES. An individuality, such as it is impossible to reproduce, clings to these Vantine lamps. Satsuma, Chinese porcelain, brass, bronze, pottery and rare porcelain vases are mounted and fitted to harmonize with any style of decoration. Suitable for oil, gas and electricity, and fixtures for dining room, side fixtures for walls, etc., in a great and unique variety.

LACUERAS OF JAPAN. The beautiful lacquer ware of Japan is distinctly Japanese; it's one of the Flowery Kingdom's "very own" arts, as remarkable as it is distinctive. The Vantine line includes many new specimens in lacquers of the finest type.

ORIENTAL JARDINIERES. Used for palms, bay-trees, hydrangeas and plants of every kind. In favorite designs and colorings of the art-loving Oriental.

PAPER PARASOLS. In the variegated, harmonious colorings of Japan—useful in scores of ways. Also Japanese paper lanterns in a nice variety of shapes and colorings.

PORTIERES. The Japanese string curtains of bamboo, glass beads and rice beads have no rivals for beauty and oddity. Used in scores of ways—at windows, doors, sometimes in "nooks" and corners.

TABLE COVERS AND SCARFS. Remarkable examples of Oriental needlework; the most comprehensive collection ever imported.

UMBRELLA JARS FROM JAPAN. Numbering among the most useful of the decorative wares of Japan. All sorts of shapes, colors, and all sorts of prices.

FLOOR VASES. Marvelously impressive examples of the eastern potter's skill in a wide variety of sizes and decorations.

BRONZES. Famed for their marvelous modeling and coloring, and finally, figures of warriors, idols, birds and animals. Vases, koros, jardiniere, umbrella stands, lamp vases, etc.

CLOISONNE ENAMELS. The annealing of colored opaque and transparent enamels on sich copper and bronze bodies produces the remarkable cloisonne of Japan. The Vantine collection rivals all others in size and in value,
The purpose of this book is to bring Vantine's, the Oriental Store, to your home—to assist you in ordering by mail objects of art and utility, collected by our representatives in the busy cities and silent places of the Orient.

Be it a Christmas gift, a birthday remembrance, a wedding present or an article for home adornment or personal use, you can select by mail from the following pages with the assurance that your order will have the same prompt and careful attention as though you purchased personally in our store.

The prices advertised are exactly the same as those prevailing in our establishment in New York, and, with the exceptions stated, include free delivery to your home when your order amounts to $1.00 and over. Furthermore, every article in this booklet is offered with the understanding that if when received it is not exactly as represented, it may be returned, and the courtesy with which the money will be returned is as truly Oriental as the goods themselves.

Vantine's reputation depends upon the genuineness of the Oriental articles offered and the fact that they are not the ordinary, cheaply commercialized articles from the Far East which any shop may buy from an importer. This confidence has been carefully nurtured for more than half a century and whether your purchase be large or small, you may make it with the absolute assurance that "If you buy at Vantine's, you will be proud to say so."

If You Had a Friend in the Orient—and wanted to make a most unique gift—away from the commonplace domestic article—you would write your friend to select something unusual and have it forwarded in all its original Oriental wrappings to the person for whom it was intended.

We are your friend in the Orient.

For the gift season we have imported a number of quaint Vantine Tea Sets, made and decorated under our supervision in Japan by the greatest ceramic artists of the present day. The designs, colorings and ware, selected by us with special reference to refined American tastes, are shown on this and the page opposite.

To add to the Oriental effect, for presentation purposes, we have had these Tea Sets packed individually in our studios in Japan, as shown in the illustration. The quaint, thorough straw packing and the Japanese boxes are left intact, just as they arrived from the ship—the recipient thus receiving in reality a gift direct from the Orient. When desired, the lid will be lifted sufficiently to insert the card of the donor, but if order is to be sent prepaid, be sure to include sufficient money in your remittance to cover express charges. Any balance will be refunded.

The toys of the Orient are unlike the everyday toys of a child—perhaps because of a certain comical humor or an appeal to the imagination, perhaps it is just because they come from a land of such happy children that they have about them an indescribably appealing charm; at any rate, children adore them, from the fierce, yellow tigers to the gentle, though insufferably proud dogs. On this and the pages following, we illustrate the greatest variety of toys we ever imported. As we import toys for the holiday season only it is advisable to order early and avoid possible disappointment of our being out of the particular toys you wish. In addition to those shown in this book, however, we have other equally interesting toys for girls and boys, the individual quantities of which would not justify their being illustrated. You therefore can order with the absolute assurance of receiving a perfectly satisfactory substitution if the exact toys you order have been sold. If you do not wish us to substitute, please write us accordingly when ordering.

THE old saying that "one-half the world does not know how the other half lives" is peculiarly appropriate when applied to the relishes and dainty eatables of the "Far and Near East."

So many tempting and toothsome tid-bits never or seldom leave the country of their origin, that unless one has traveled abroad and has permitted one's curiosity to overcome a sense of apprehension, one is very apt to remain in ignorance of many delightful treats.

That housewife's bugbear, the getting of "something different and unusual" to lay before an expected guest, is overcome by the Oriental Store, however, for at Vantine's may be found a varied assortment of delicious Oriental delicacies, as well as many household necessities, such as teas and coffees, of which none better is to be had anywhere. And in getting these unusual dainties you may also be sure of receiving unusual and unique packages.

For centuries the Chinese have been famous for their preserves and relishes, among which are the always popular preserved ginger, preserved chow-chow (mixed fruits), crystallized ginger, crystallized cumquats, lychee nuts (natural), lychee nuts (preserved), etc., while India with its curry powder, chutneys, etc., is not behind the other Eastern countries in creating relishes that stimulate the appetite and appease the desire for something different.

Japan, while in the East, is in a measure apart from it, but its delightful confections, such as midzuame or rice candy, a most wholesome confection; rice bars, similar to our domestic peanut bars, but of a finer flavor; and rice wafers, are some of the eatables peculiar to the Land of the Rising Sun.

On the following pages are illustrated and described a large variety of the Vantine Oriental Delicacies, and we shall be very glad to supply any further information desired regarding the new importations that are being constantly added.

As we do not prepay the transportation charges on Oriental delicacies, be sure to include sufficient money in your remittance to cover forwarding charges, if the articles selected are to be prepaid. Any balance will be promptly refunded.

Miscellaneous Oriental Delicacies
(Not Illustrated)

In addition to the Oriental Delicacies illustrated on the preceding pages, we carry in stock a large variety of sweetmeats, etc., crystallized fruits, nuts, jellies, teas, etc., some of which we list below.

In stating the weights of all Oriental delicacies, the figures given are for the individual articles packed for shipment (mailing) and should not be confused with the net weight or contents of each package, basket, etc.

As the parcel post rates are based on the pound (not ounces) an article weighing less than one pound requires the same postage as though the package weighed the full pound. We abbreviate the words “shipping weight” by the letters S. W. on this page.

Be sure to allow for postage or expressage if order is to be forwarded prepaid. Any balance will be promptly refunded.

The threads in the material of which these kimonos are made are woven by Japanese girls who twist each thread after dipping their hands in beeswax to insure each garment becoming more crepy the oftener it is washed. Oriental Toilet Waters

These are not mere scented waters—Vantine's Toilet Waters have almost the strength of ordinary extracts. The invigorating spirits which they contain give the toilet all the charm and refreshing power which belonged to the baths of the ancient Romans. Each odor is characteristic of the flower from which it is taken. Each bottle is distinctively Vantine, and is fitted with gold-plated sprinkler top, attractively labeled and packed in boxes imported from Japan.

The object of Vantine's Oriental Perfumery Laboratory is to do things differently—to get away from the perfumes that have to do with violets, roses, and familiar flowers. All the world has made perfumes with these odors, some with fair success, most with apologetic failure and full of lithographic triumph and laboratory dross.

We have gone far afield to the lands of frankincense and myrrh, and from the materials obtained created the popular Vantine Oriental Perfume and Toilet Requisites which are the favorites of discriminating American women. The boxes containing the sets illustrated on this and page opposite were designed especially for presentation purposes by our own artists and made for us in Tokyo, Japan.

ORIENTAL FOOTWEAR

ORDERING footwear by mail from Vantine's is as satisfactory as personally selecting in our store, if when sending your order you will simply send us an outline of the foot for which the slippers, etc., are wanted. To do this place the foot on a piece of white paper and, while seated, trace the foot's outline with a sharp pencil. Enclose this tracing with your order and be sure to state the color, and when ordering fur sandals and slippers state the fur desired.

We cheerfully exchange slippers, sandals, etc., if when received size you order does not fit perfectly, provided, of course, your purchase is returned to us in a saleable condition within a reasonable length of time.

Japanese Fibre Rugs

In none of their varied arts and manufactures have the Japanese displayed such remarkable imitative genius and characteristic skill as in the weaving of fibre rugs and carpets. Each year has witnessed a marked advancement in this particular industry, until at the present time the Japanese are producing with the aid of jute fibre faultlessly accurate copies of rare and beautiful Turkish, India and Persian rugs and carpets.

This successful result of many years' persistent efforts was not without a crude beginning; on the contrary, the first attempts to reproduce antique and modern Oriental rugs resulted in nothing more than a general, rather than a minute imitation of the Oriental designs, while little or no regard was shown for other features which contribute largely to the elegance and richness of Oriental pieces.

From time to time, however, these defects were remedied, and in a most successful manner, for the Japanese fibre rug of today embodies practically all those qualities which are distinctive of rare and costly Oriental weaves. At regular intervals we select from our own importations of Oriental rugs many of the choicest and most beautiful Far Eastern designs for reproduction in jute, thus enabling us to carry in stock an unusually large assortment of the Japanese jute rugs in real Oriental designs and colorings, as well as in the conventional Chinese and Japanese patterns, any of which may be ordered by mail as satisfactorily as though a personal selection was made in our store.

These rugs are made of a flax-like fibre (not grass) that is imported into Japan from India, and the designs which are confined exclusively to Vantine's are reproductions of some of our highest price Oriental rugs. They are very durable, and with ordinary care will wear indefinitely.

No. 12780. (Illustrated above.) Japanese Fibre Rug, in conventionalized Oriental design, in blue, dark brown and ivory on dull gold ground. Border of blue.

Howo Chinaware

"HOWO" Chinaware is Japanese ware, pleasing in design and very serviceable. Ever since Chinaware has been known, its dainty color scheme of blue and white has been much admired. By applications of modern science it has been made particularly strong and durable, and is therefore suited to everyday use. It is said when the "Howo" bird descended from Heaven, there appeared a Wise Man who ruled the country so peacefully that the peasants enjoyed abundant harvests, which spread happiness throughout the land, filling the hearts of all the Japanese people with joy and gladness. In Japan this design is generally called "Howo Moyo"; this is combined with "Kiku" or "Chrysanthemum," which is the Queen of Flowers and the Emperor's Crest or Coat of Arms, and representative of the Japanese nation. It is of ancient, historic origin and very unique.

Dainty Japanese Toweling

JAPANESE Toweling or "Tenugui," as it is known in Japan, is an interesting Oriental fabric of white hand-twilled cotton with a linen finish, on which are hand-stencilled patterns of rare and artistic designs in pretty shades of blue. In the Orient it is used for drying the face and hands after ablution, so when lifting a towel to his face the native beholds some fair scene that reminds him either of the beauty of his country, the habits of wild life, or the history of the race from which he sprung.

The American housekeeper, however, ever alert for any distinctive and individual fabric that will increase the attractiveness of her home, immediately realized the possibilities of this quaint Oriental creation, and it is really astonishing what a vogue Japanese Toweling now has. It is a most fascinating fabric to work with, for somehow it suggests uses to which one would never have dreamed of putting it. Aside from its use in the dining room, as shown in the illustration above, it is also used extensively in bedrooms, where its artistic designs lend themselves to the making of bedspreads, upholstery covers, dresser and chiffonier scarfs, couch covers, laundry bags, etc.

Japanese Toweling is best understood when one is acquainted with the history of the Japanese, their folk-lore, their symbolism, their pet ideas and cherished traditions. The plain unpainted cup will hold tea, a screen without the adornment of beautiful landscapes, exquisite flowers or bewitching faces or figures will answer the purpose for which it was made, but in the mind of the Japanese everything must be beautiful. The commonest utensils are artistic in shape and charming in decoration—a single flower, a solitary leaf, a trailing vine, a bird, a butterfly—something each article must have. This principle extends even to the popular "Tenugui" or Japanese towels.

Our stock of Japanese Toweling, of which we show 12 designs in actual colors on the opposite page, is the largest to be found in America, and includes numerous designs to be had in no other establishment.

Vantine's Japanese Toweling is 12 inches wide and is sold only in bolts containing ten towels (or yards). It is impossible, therefore, to supply samples without destroying a complete design, but we shall cheerfully accept for exchange or refund any design selected which when received does not meet with complete approval.

EVERYBODY knows Canton Chinaware—the always popular open stock "willow" pattern—with its pagodas, bridges, streams, boats, little figures of men and women, and the love birds. A quaint legend has it that the story depicted on the china tells how a mandarin had an only daughter, Li-Chi, who fell in love with her father's secretary, Chang.

The mandarin forbade the match, so the lovers eloped, hiding for a time in a gardener's cottage, until at last they attempted to make their escape to an island which was Chang's home. The mandarin pursued them, whip in hand and would have killed them had not the gods come to the rescue and changed the two into a pair of turtle doves.

In the design will be seen the mandarin's house with a fence round it, the gardener's cottage, a bridge over which the mandarin ran after his daughter, who, with a staff in hand, was accompanied by Chang. Above are the turtle doves, and beyond is a boat crossing to the island. At the time of the elopement the willow was shedding its leaves, hence the name of the design.

For over a half a century Vantine's has been the headquarters in this country for Canton Chinaware, and in no other establishment in the United States may be found such a complete assortment as we always carry in stock.

For complete price list of Canton Chinaware, see page 80, opposite.
ONG before the Orient opened its doors to Western trading, Gold Medallion China—"The aristocrat of the chinaware world"—was the pride of the American house-wife.

Then as now it represented all that was best in chinaware and fortunate, indeed, was the woman who could point to a limited collection of it.

The Gold Medallion China imported by us is manufactured in exactly the same manner as that brought home by the Far Eastern traders of early Colonial days, and its exquisite colorings and artistic designs are more popular to-day than ever.

For the hostess who seeks Chinaware of distinctiveness and individuality, there is nothing that can compare with Gold Medallion, and being an "open pattern," you may buy an entire set or only a few pieces and add to these from time to time until your set is complete.

Because of its artistic decorative appearance and serviceability it is particularly appropriate for wedding gifts, and as our stock always includes a large supply of all pieces, the recipient is afforded the pleasure of collecting additional pieces from time to time, as needed.

For complete price list of Gold Medallion Chinaware, see page 80
